ROGERS IMAGINES FARM ADVERTISING ON CIGARET BASIS.

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., July 10.—I always knew the farmer of only needed
advertising, but I had become discouraged as to how to get it, for there didn't seem any actual need. But this new board has come through with an original idea.

For one hour
every day the farmer is to receive assistance
over the radio.
Different cigarettes have had an hour, and they are all doing pretty well, so they figure that an hour's advertising over the radio will just about put agriculture on the level with cigarets, and no farmer could ask more than that.

WILL.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Movement to secure a new Union station, or some new railroad station in this city, is steadily gaining momentum. At the weekly meeting of the Lions club on Tuesday their voice was unanimously added to those already in the line up of this move.
Many more organizations will join as the days go by. PA News and the rest of the citizens realize that passing resolutions at meetings will not in themselves result in erection of a new station, but this sentiment is bound to increase to such a gigantic wave that the railroad companies will take cognizance. There is no disputing the fact that new stations are a craving need in this city. Action should not be dropped until the demand and the condition remedied.
New Castle has waited far too long for improvement in this line.

From the amount of dirt being taken from the storm sewers and manholes about the city, it seems that there is little wonder that some of the sewers were not functioning well.
The storm sewer in this city should be cleaned out, and this sewer cleaning work should be continued permanently. Sewers cannot be expected to do effective work if they are clogged with dirt and debris.

The heavy wind storm of yesterday afternoon, toppled over a considerable number of trees about the city.

Here's another matter for the city engineering department, sidewalk inspector, or local agents of the city to look after. Here and there about the city sidewalks are broken by heavy trucks driving over them for various purposes and they are not repaired.
It seems to PA News that if sidewalks are destroyed by driving over them, that those doing the trucking
are responsible and should be required to rebuild the walks.

One never knows what it takes to run the postoffice. At the central office a sign is noticed wherein it is stated that the postoffice is purchasing kerosene, and, salt, ammonia
rock salt, and barrel salt.

Although the lawn at the Jameson Memorial Hospital has been in only a short time, the green is beginning to show up through the ground, and with the present rainy spell, will get a good start. The lawn was put in by planning long strings of "weepers," which send down a root, and send up a shoot, at each joint. It grows very profusely.

Many people scurried for cover in the downtown district when the rain storm broke yesterday afternoon. It was preceded by considerable wind.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—
Proposed elimination or reduction of the protective tariff on automobiles today threatened to provoke an unexpected fight in tariff legislation which may overshadow the highly controversial sugar schedule.
The issue will be placed squarely before congressional tariff makers tomorrow when automobile manufacturers appear before the metals subcommittee headed by Senator David A. Reed (R) of Pennsylvania to discuss their tariff views.

New Currency Late Arriving

Shipment Of New Money Did Not Arrive This Morning

PROBABLY HERE THIS AFTERNOON

Asking your favorite banker for a piece of the new currency this morning, was simply courting disaster,
take a reporter's word for it. He tried.
In the first place, it didn't come in. The statement that the new money would be available for distribution on July 10th, did not mean
at 9 o'clock in the morning, nor yet at noon. It just meant that the Federal Reserve banks in the various districts would send it out to the various member banks on that date. If it didn't arrive at its destination in time to be distributed to the bank patrons today, that was not their fault, and they probably cared a lot less.

Not Here At Noon
Each Federal Reserve bank only serves a few thousand banks in the district. That means that several thousand shipments had to be figured out, the money wrapped up in the regular form for mailing over Uncle Sam's circuit, and then delivered to the local banks. The Federal Reserve bank did its part. It got the money into the mails today, July 10th, but by noon none of it had yet arrived in the city.

By the time the paper goes to press
this afternoon, it will no doubt be here, what there is of it. Inquires today, revealed the fact that only about $10,000 worth would be received.

Americans Enmasse On Vacation Sprees

NEW YORK, July 10.—Everybody's traveling this year.
America is enjoying great prosperity and the people, with plenty of money to spend, are indulging themselves on "vacation sprees" this summer on a scale larger perhaps than ever before. Officials of various travel bureaus said today. They pointed to the sailing today of one ship, the Ma-

State Will Aid Work On Two City Streets

Croton Avenue And Grant Street Will Be Improved
In Near Future

Both Are Links On Important State Highway Routes Here

Parts of two New Castle streets will be reconstructed by the state, under the provision of the Wheeler Bill passed in the recent session of the General Assembly, which allocated $2-000,000 for assistance to cities of the third class.
The authority for the statement is
J. C. Frame, State Highway Engineer of this district, who was in New Castle Tuesday afternoon. He was here primarily to attend a conference between the county commissioners, representative citizens of Ellwood City, and state officials.

Croton and Grant Streets
"I have already sent in my recommendations to Harrisburg," said Mr.
Frame. "Some days ago I took the matter up with the city council and they agreed that Croton avenue and Grant streets were the streets most in need of reconstruction. Accordingly I made such recommendation to the highway department and there should be some action from there in a short time."

Under the terms of the Wheeler
Bill, the $2,000,000.00 is divided according to the number of miles of state highway passing over the streets of third class cities. This gives New Castle about $70,000.00. It is Mr.
Frame's belief that it would be more efficient to use the money for permanent work than to spread it out in small pieces of temporary work.
At the conference held in the Court

"Awfully Proud" Say Fliers' Wives

Wives Of Rome Fliers Are Relieved To Hear Of Plane's Progress

STRAIN TERRIBLE SAYS MRS. YANCEY

NEW YORK, July 10.—Mrs. Roger
Q. Williams and Mrs. Lewis A. Yancey expressed themselves today as "awfully proud" of their husbands, who flew the Atlantic in the monoplane Pathfinder, landing at Santander,
Spain, 3,400 miles from Old Orchard, Me., the starting point of their attempted non-stop loop to Rome.
Although neither Mrs. Williams nor Mrs. Yancey was worried while the plane was in flight, they were relieved upon receiving assurance that their husbands had landed without mishap.
For 35 hours they had heard no news of the intrepid aviators. No ships had sighted the Pathfinder. No ships were beginning to get a little nervous, but they steeled themselves to be brave under any circumstances.
"I knew they would land safely,"
said Mrs. Yancey, wife of the co-pilot, and navigator. "I'm awfully proud of both of them. Next time I hope Lou will take me with him."
Mrs. Williams echoed the sentiments of Mrs. Yancey. Said Mrs. Williams:
"It's such a relief to know they are all right. I can't tell you how happy
I am. The boys trying to live through the long hours as naturally as possible. I spent most of the two seemingly endless days answering the telephone, listening to the radio, playing bridge and shopping—anything to keep myself from worrying."

strain was until the relief of good news came."

ROME, July 10.—The trans-

compelled by fuel shortage to land near Santander, Spain, while attempting a non-stop flight from Old Orchard, Me., to Rome, is expected to arrive here between 9 and 10 o'clock tonight.

News from Santander that the Pathfinder had hopped off at 11:18

throughout Rome. Preparations for the welcome of the brave aviators were rushed to completion. If the plane does not arrive before sundown bouquets will be lighted in all the air fields around the city and safely on the ground.

The airline distance from San-

by way of France, which would stretch the distance covered to about 1,000 miles or more.

Cathedral Fund Passes Quarter Million Mark

New Castle Teams Are More Than Holding Their Own Against Outside Zones

BEAVER FALLS HAS FINE REPORT TO MAKE

Team captains and workers engaged in the Cathedral fund-raising campaign, reported a total of $24,000 as a result of the past week of campaigning, at the dinner meeting held in the Cathedral last evening. This raised the total figures to $257,000.

Last week's total was the smallest reported since the campaign has been actively under way, but the Fourth of July holiday is blamed for the low figure. Team captains and workers were not discouraged by the report, and are starting out today with renewed vigor to bring in a better report at the meeting next week.

William Hoffman and William Bell of Beaver Falls were among the out-of-town guests present last evening, and they returned a report showing that Beaver Falls has now raised $20,000, the largest amount of any of the districts outside New Castle.

The New Castle workers still continue to set the pace for the other zones, last night's figures showing that they have raised $135,500, while the zones outside the city have turned in $121,500.

The wind which has accompanied the storms of the past few days has played havoc with awnings on homes and stores. Some people have left home and left their awnings down, the storm striking before they could get back and fasten them securely.

Local motorists who have occasion to use the Butler Plank road will welcome the announcement that the state plans to widen the road, and eliminate many of the dangerous curves, of which there are many on this route.

Today is the day the new money was issued by the banks, but reports around town are that very little of it is in circulation. Most of it is being carried around in vest pockets for souvenirs.

Indications this morning pointed to the Veterans picnic being a complete washout. Just like your partner's bridge hand. Great preparations had been made for the event, too, and a large crowd of visiting Vets had been anticipated from out of town.

Several new homes are being constructed out on the New Wilmington road. Pa Newc observes, after a little jaunt out. Seems to Pa Newc that it might not be many years before the "ninth ward" will be connected with this city by a continuous residential section.

Atlantic avenue suffered again this morning. Near the seventh ward, there was a minor washout over the road and above Oakland there was quite a pile of dirt washed onto the highway. Workmen for the state will have their old job over again today about the country cleaning up such debris.

WHY SOLAR RADIATION ACCUMULATES IN SUMMER

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

When any given area of country is receiving more hours of sunshine than of none-exposure to solar rays during 24 hours, that area continues to increase in temperature. Consequently, as the days shorten after June 21—the longest day in northern latitude—the temperatures continue to rise. One might suppose that the warmest day of the year would arrive with the longest day in June. But the increasing heat lags behind; a surplus continues to accumulate until days have sufficiently shortened to permit the earth's radiation to exceed its constantly received heat from the sun. As a result, July is normally the warmest summer month.

SEE BIG BATTLE ON TARIFF RATE CUT FOR AUTOS

cut tariff protection for other industries declared to have a virtual monopoly of the world market, including the Mellon-controlled American Aluminum company.

Simply abolish a tariff which auto makers do not need, thereby securing removal of tariff barriers being raised abroad against the American product, at the same time lessening criticism which has been directed at the Hawley tariff bill.

To Discuss Rumors

Sen. Reed has declined to amplify his statement that he invited leaders of the industry to appear to explain "rumors" that the industry sees no need of tariff protection.

Another member of the subcommittee, Sen. King (D) of Utah, declared that he is "in the dark" on the situation.

Chairman Smoot of the finance committee disclosed that he favors reduction of the auto tariff from 25 to approximately 10 per cent.

"My information indicates that the 25 per cent tariff is not needed by the industry," he said. "I do not favor wiping out the tariff altogether."

At the present time I understand that Ford tractors are made in Ireland and shipped to this country. There is no tariff on tractors. I doubt whether passenger automobiles made abroad by American firms would be shipped to the United States. However, I should favor a tariff of probably 10 per cent to insure maintenance of the industry in this country."

Both the Ford Motor company and General Motors have recently expanded in the foreign field. The General Motors company purchased the Opel Motor company, the largest German manufacturer, and the Ford company, in addition to establishing a British company, is reported to have made a German alliance.

European-made cars, however, Sen. Smoot pointed out, are generally lighter than a similar American product, and American firms are using their foreign factories to supply a foreign demand.

Alvan Macaulay, president of the Packard Motor company, Alfred Sloan, president of General Motors or a representative, Henry Ford or a representative, and W. T. White of the White company of Cleveland are scheduled to testify here tomorrow.

man of the Senate finance committee, who declared that the announced postal deficit for 1929 of $95,000,000, dooms tax reduction, also declared that there would be no rate increase next winter.

Plans Reduction

While the President is planning to reduce the deficit, more than a score of bills already are pending which would increase the cost of the department.

Plans already are under way to enforce the 44-hour week in the postal service, estimated to cost $3,700,000 a year, and other bills call for widespread upward revision of salaries to postal employees and postmasters.

Another movement, strongly supported in Congress, calls for a definite expression of governmental policy to make the Post Office Department a service rather than a business institution.

House Tuesday afternoon, it was agreed by every one present that now that enough state aid money has been secured to finish Lawrence County's share of the Ellwood-Portersville Road, that it would be better to hold it until next spring and do it in one job. In the meantime a conference has been arranged with the Butler County commissioners which will be for the purpose of getting Butler County to co-operate in the plan and agree to build it's mile or little better at the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Heasley and daughter Marie of Los Angeles, Cal., arrived in this city Tuesday evening where they will visit the former's mother, Mrs. Mary J. Heasley, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rhodes of Hillcrest avenue.

Rural mail carriers used precaution in traveling the dirt roads today. The downpour made some of the routes unusually slippery. Reports at the New Castle post office said that carriers had to drive with extraordinary care.

Speaking of heavy traffic on highways, Young Pa Newc learned from a resident today that he counted exactly 325 cars on the Youngstown-New Castle road last Sunday afternoon, heading toward Ohio. He was coming from New Castle and between the Coltsville crossroads and the place where the road ascends the hill at the Harbor there were just that many machines that passed him.

NO HIGHWAY CRASHES

No accidents occurred between automobiles on Lawrence county highways last night, State Highway police report.

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

When any given area of country is receiving more hours of sunshine than of none-exposure to solar rays during 24 hours, that area continues to increase in temperature. Consequently, as the days shorten after June 21—the longest day in northern latitude—the temperatures continue to rise. One might suppose that the warmest day of the year would arrive with the longest day in June. But the increasing heat lags behind; a surplus continues to accumulate until days have sufficiently shortened to permit the earth's radiation to exceed its constantly received heat from the sun. As a result, July is normally the warmest summer month.

"Russia is becoming exceedingly popular with tourists, and that country is taking advantage of this condition. Our business for Russia is 100 per cent bigger than last year and 300 per cent greater than it was three years ago. People going to that country now do so with a feeling of security that did not prevail four or five years ago."

The psychology of the American traveling public is not changing, according to Goodman. He estimated that 90 per cent travel for a good time and 10 per cent because of its educational value. He said the so-called middle-class do most of the traveling. School teachers travel more than any other class, business men second and those visiting relatives third.

Managers of other travel bureaus corroborated Goodman's remarks about the increase in travel. Report Ramhennano, manager of the student's travel club which is handling bookings from 47 states said this year's increase in travel to Europe is 15 per cent and his company booked 2,000 passengers last year.

By next Christmas, perhaps you may be able to secure a few bills for Christmas presents, and even then they may still be curiosities.

Local bankers are agreed that it is going to take a long time before the old currency passes out of circulation entirely, and the new money takes its place.

See Difficulties

They can see only trouble looming on the horizon for the next few years, as far as the new money is concerned, and the bright individual who conceived the idea of saving Uncle Sam a lot of money, will be consigned to a warmer place than the central part of Africa, or the Great American desert.

It means that when the amount received by them becomes noticeable, that they will have to turn every old bill upside down to see that none of the little fellows are sticking on the bottom. Undoubtedly, they will have to devise new compartments to keep the old separated from the new.

One of the favorite topics for conversation for the next few months will be "Have you seen any of the new money yet?" and the proud possessor of such a piece of Uncle Sam's medium of exchange will pass it around for the edification of those present.

Many a happy evening at bridge will be spoiled because someone, looking over the new currency, will not chancily trump his partner's ace and then excuse himself on the grounds that he did not have his mind on the game.

But anyhow, folks, the new money is here to stay. You may see some of it during the next few years, but don't be disappointed if you don't.

Von Tirpitz Not Pleased

Deplores Reparations Burden which Is Placed On

INTERVIEW GIVEN ON RECENT PARLEY

By OTTO D. TOLICHUS
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
BERLIN, July 10.—The reparations burden which the Allies have imposed upon Germany is deplored
and resented by former Grand Admiral Alfred Von Tirpitz, head of the German navy in wartime. Von Tirpitz' statement reflected those of other representative Germans in a series of expressions given to International News Service today.

These expressions of opinion are timely, now that the Young plan for reparation payments has been accepted
by the Allied and American experts, although it has not yet been officially ratified by the interested governments. Another circumstance that makes this opportunity is that an international conference of the interested powers will be held early next month to consider the political aspects of the reparation settlement.
Extracts from the statements, written expressly for International News Service, follow:

By former Grand Admiral Von Tirpitz.—There exists no moral obligation
for Germany to pay reparations, because Germany neither prepared the war nor caused its immediate outbreak. But, since we were defeated, the Treaty of Versailles obligated us to pay reparations. The treaty provided, however, only for restoration of private property damage within 30 years.

Nowhere in this treaty is there any talk of war tribute which we should pay to enemy countries.

This clearly defined limit of reparations was first extended in the London ultimatum of 1921 and the Dawes plan later transformed it into wholly boundless obligations.

It is unthinkable that Germany should pay war tributes simply because she lost the war. We have so far delivered to the enemy our entire navy and merchant fleet, except a few remnants. We have turned over 10 per cent of our home land, all our colonies and enormous deliveries

in kind. Our payments so far have been so exorbitant that they have more than covered the demands of the Treaty of Versailles. The colonies alone were valued by representative
Englishmen at $5,000,000,000 marks.

Germany will be forced to face with bolshevism its share in the war. To continue exorbitant payments while her trade balance shows a deficit and her agriculture in an critical condition.
The impossibility to pay has found expression in the transfer protection of the Dawes plan.

Unless our opponents see to it that their treaty walls are torn down so that our exports exceed our necessary imports, all export commissions and future currency are vain.

What we have paid under the Dawes plan has been paid from loans
from America, which have increased our national debt to 15,000,000,000 marks. Since we are already facing bankruptcy, it is unlikely that America will grant any more big loans.
And, even if they are granted, they will be unable to prevent the ruin of Germany.

Notice, Flappers,
They Still Wear 'Em.

(International News Service)
GREENWICH Conn., July 10.— Mrs. William O. Remson, a guest of the Maples hotel here, is glad she is old fashioned enough to wear corsets.
Her corset saved her from possible
death when she was struck by a 22
calibre bullet fired from a toy pistol
by a boy who was playing near her window.
The youngster attempted to shoot
a bird, but the bullet entered the window and drilled a hole in Mrs. Remson's corset. Thanks to several layers of elastic brocade and whalebone
the bullet inflicted only a flesh wound.

The World
AND THE

anything criminal he may be prosecuted in a criminal court. No matter how guilty he may be that does not affect the question of divorce. If a man marries a woman and then applies for a divorce the next day, it will be granted. But he is liable to be severely punished for rape if it is known that he only had this intention when he persuaded the girl to marry him. The Bolsheviks does not know what we mean when we speak of the "socializing of women." This is impossible from his viewpoint. For it implies that woman has become the common property of men instead of the property of an individual man.
The Communist has no sympathy with the form of marriage in which the bride is given away by her father,
as though she were now to be owned by the husband. He likewise has no sympathy with the conception of marriage as a bond, sealed by a ring or other hocus pocus. It is a western idea that one "belongs" to the other,
which the Bolshevik repudiates. The Soviet government has done its best to discourage church ceremonies or rites of any kind in connection with a marriage.

We are told that on the first year
when this new marriage and divorce
law went into effect—the year 1919, there were many more divorces than marriages. This was because of the large number of couples who had been virtually separated for years,
who now leaped at the opportunity to be legally divorced.
Since then the number of marriages
and divorces has run about even.
But many men secure divorces and remarry as many as a dozen times.
It frequently occurs that a man remarries his former wife. Sometimes he forgets to have this re-marriage recorded. A man the other day when asked whether he was married, replied, "No, I am not married; but I am co-habiting with my former wife!"

Of course, there is no room for such a thing as we have customarily called romantic love. A woman is not referred to as "Mrs." or "Miss." Like a man she is either Comrade or Citizen. No other titles are used. We saw men and women bathing today in the Moscow river close to the principal promenade of the city. Close to passers-by both men and women un-dressed nonchalantly and went into the river stark naked. But scarcely anybody stopped to look. It has become a matter of custom, and so has no purient interest for anyone. Filthiness has lapsed. There is no charm where there is no mystery. And so the sexes have lost their attractiveness for each other. "Sex appeal" as it is practiced in Hollywood, would not be recognized in Moscow.

Perhaps I have hit on the secret of the luxuriant whiskers affected by so many men. It is the eternal masculine asserting itself. It is man's last hedy defense. This is the only prerogative which has not been usurped by woman. Many Russian whiskers continue to flourish. Perhaps we in America shall have to start culivating whiskers, if we have not lost
the art!

PATHFINDER TO

without a stop, reaching Rome this evening.
"We regret that we could not make the flight in a single hop as we anticipated, but the long voyage over the Atlantic through misty weather was an achievement that gave us much satisfaction," said Williams.
A large crowd gathered at the Alberta airfield to give the flyers a send off.

Flew 3500 Miles
The aviators flew nearly 3,500 miles from Old Orchard to Alberia in about 31 hours and 30 minutes, landing at 9:30 Spanish time last night.
Williams was at the controls when the Pathfinder took off. He headed the plane northward, then veered sharply to the east, following the coast line. He disappeared from view in three minutes after the plane took the air.
Mounted police patrolled the air
field keeping back the crowd.
The flyers had a good night's rest and were greatly refreshed after their long vigil over the sea. They left their hotel shortly after 9 o'clock, driving in an automobile to the airfield. There they made a careful examination of the Pathfinder, especially the motor. When they finished they told mechanics at the field that everything was satisfactory and that they would hop off within a few hours for the eternal city.

In Good Shape
The motor was examined also by Spanish mechanics. They likewise found everything in good shape except that the gasoline tank
required some slight repairs.
Spanish officials shook hands with the Americans in farewell and wished them a speedy and successful flight to Rome.

The plane was covered with inscriptions when it left Alberia. Many persons who got near enough wrote their signatures upon the wings and body and there were many such inscriptions as "Viva United States!"
The crowd at the field kept cheering throughout the morning and there were thousands held back by the police lines when Williams made his perfect take off. The crowd cheered and tossed hats into the air
until the plane dwindled to a speck
in the sky then disappeared entirely.
Cheated of their objective by some 850 miles, Williams and Yancey yet have a perfect trans-Atlantic crossing to their credit, achieved in spite of the handicap of a dense fog throughout which they were forced to plough
during almost all of the 31-hour journey from Old Orchard, Maine.

The Pathfinder's motor functioning perfectly but its gasoline supply diminishing with alarming rapidity, came to rest at the Alberia aerodrome about four miles outside of Santander at 4:40 p. m. New York time yesterday. The descent was made eight and a half hours before the aviators considered it would be necessary for they thought they had sufficient fuel for 40 hours in the air.
—enough to carry them straight to Rome without any stop on the way.
They decided to proceed to Santander by automobile and after a well-come by the governor of Santander province, to spend the night at the Royal hotel.

Tell of Trip
Refreshed after a night of unbroken
sleep, Williams gave to International News Service today a graphic description of the eventful flight. He revealed that in spite of his years of flying experience, he became almost visibly sick during the flight. When the plane landed at Alberia, he was immediately given medical attention, but his trouble proved not to be of a serious nature.

I was at the control of the Pathfinder when we hopped from Old Orchard," Williams said. "After five hours of plotting, I had a bad attack of stomach ache and had to hand the controls over to Yancey.
"After that we alternated at the controls every five hours. It happened that I was at the controls again
when we sighted land and decided to bring the plane down at the Alberia field.
It was necessary to fly at a great altitude during most of the flight owing to dense cloud formations. In mid-Atlantic we flew at a height of 12,000 feet and our lowest altitude during the flight was 50 feet, when we swooped down over the Spanish coast.
"We were favored by a tail wind
all the way across, but visibility was exceedingly poor, owing to the dense fog."
Encounter Bad Weather
The Pathfinder, Williams stated, encountered three bad patches of weather, but the plane weathered the storms well, and came through with small damage.
"We hit three bad storms during the night," the fliers continued. "One of them—about midnight—was so vicious that the wind ripped the metal cover off our gasoline tank. We knew something was wrong, but didn't find out what it was until we landed. The damage will not prevent our taking off for Rome this morning.
"We approached the Spanish coast
by way of Cape Ortegal, and from that point followed the coast-line.
As we approached Comillas, we recognized the spot where the Yellow Bird had landed, and although our gasoline supply was running dangerously low, we were determined at least to beat our French rivals, even though it was obviously impossible for us to reach our goal.

"We managed to fly twenty-five miles further in an easterly direction
before lack of fuel forced us to land.
We flew over Alberia field several times looking for a suitable landing place, and a number of children on the field spotted us. They lit a bonfire which guided us to a safe landing.
"The Pathfinder almost overturned
when the wheels struck a soft mound
of earth and in trying to avoid other mounds I was forced to swerve the plane violently. We finally came to rest with the nose of the Pathfinder pointing toward America instead of Rome.
"I was very dizzy when I got out of the plane, but quickly recovered after medical attention."
Williams revealed that after the landing they were forced to ask inhabitants whether they had landed in France or in Spain. When attaches of the field and nearby residents discovered that another trans-Atlantic plane had dropped in their midst,
the fliers were given a rousing reception, and after the Pathfinder
had been wheeled to a sheltered spot,
they were taken to Santander to be officially received by the governor.
"We are very sorry we weren't able to make Rome in one jump," Yan-cey said. "But in all events, this was a good place to land, and at least we have the satisfaction of having flown the ocean successfully against great handicaps.
Yancey said they never saw the sea
except for two hours during the entire flight, and that no steamships were sighted on the journey. He explained that the heavy fuel consumption was due to the necessity of climbing to such a high altitude to escape the thick blanket of fog.
The fliers declared they made little use of their luxurious larder of food,
only nibbling at a few bars of chocolate and drinking the contents of one thermos bottle filled with hot coffee.
"We were too busy to think about eating," Williams said.
Neither Williams nor Yancey were unduly fatigued by the long journey.

But both slept soundly last night
and were in splendid physical condition when they arose this morning.

HOUSE HUNTERS FIND WHAT THEY'RE AFTER.
A wild berry bush grew so close to the stink of golden rod upon which Sam Spider had spun the front porch that their leaves touched. At last Mrs. Spider who certainly was hard to suit decided to try her luck at finding a location for the house upon the berry bush. Up she ran and in a second was buzzing in great excitement.

"Sam, Sam come right up here! I've found exactly what I have been looking for. I can sit in the doorway all day long and see that you busy yourself catching flies for the family instead of falling asleep in the sun and take care of my housekeeping affairs at the same time. Sam, where are you?"

"Here I am, my dear, here I am!" answered Mr. Spider and his bulging eyes and soft fat body (looking more like a stuffed bag than ever, thought Peter appeared at the top of the berry bush. "You see you needn't have crawled so far nor so fast. If you'd taken my advice you would have looked near the front porch in the first place. Phew! Trying to keep up the pace you set takes a fellow's breath away did you know it? Let me rest a second my dear. There I'm all right now and ready to begin. What shape do you want the house? That's the next thing to decide upon."

"Let me think!" buzzed Mrs. Spider slowly. "I remember Mother's house was round like a ball and we children never look any comfort in it. We could never stick upon its sides as we should have, our legs were too weak. We were forever tumbling on top of each other and making each other all hot and squinty and uncomfortable. Aunt's house was built like a barn and I shouldn't like to copy her style. Only the other day she told me she thought she would have to move since as the children grew the closer quarters became and now none of them are getting scarcely any light nor air." Mrs. Spider fell into one of those silences which always meant she had a bright idea.

"I tell you what Sam, let's have a house shaped like a basket! Then our babies will be certain to have plenty of room and as much fresh air and light as they need. I've decided. A basket house it shall be! You can set to work as soon as you have a mind to. I, for one am not going to say another word that might delay you."

"Sometimes I have had to save on breakfasts—but never on Lux—that is an essential. ... Again and again I've been complimented on my lovely new clothes. And I've gotten any number of jobs, I know, because my clothes look nice—thanks to Lux."

Not only "extras" but stars—all the great movie studios, with million-dollar wardrobes to care for, use Lux! They find by scientific tests that pretty clothes, whether of sheer or sturdier materials—can actually be kept new looking twice as long with Lux! Measuring Navies By Yardstick, As President Hoover Advocates, Seen As Wrong Attack On Issue

By CHARLES P. STEWART,
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Almost from the day he was inaugurated, President Hoover has been emphasizing the importance of an international agreement on a yardstick to measure the world's navies one with another.

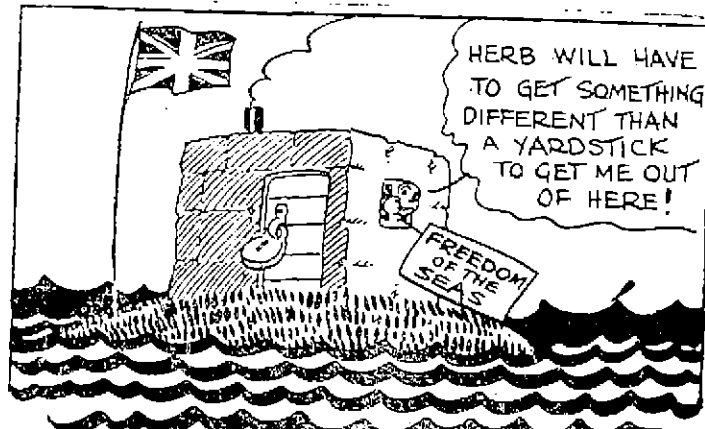

Presumably his object is a bargain to measure them all round—America's and Great Britain's to equality; the smaller powers in proportion.

But why worry over the yardstick—until the bargain is in sight? Nearly all the practical navy reductionists meet in Washington seem to think the problem is being tackled wrong end first—unless the president has some scheme up his sleeve.

If he has and would divulge it he might make a good many converts. On the other hand it is the whole thing depends on a yardstick plenty of competent authorities predict that no such article ever will be found—and naval reduction is stalled right there.

A yardstick—to measure—for instance—Great Britain's naval strength against America's.

President Hoover certainly is right

In saying that a comparison of men-o-war means nothing.

If Uncle Sam could match fighting vessel for fighting vessel with John Bull from the biggest battleship down to the tiniest launch with a penguin mounted in her bow—would they be on an equality?

Not by about 20 strong naval bases and a huge fleet of potentially belligerent merchantmen at least.

Hardly a habitable point of land pokes itself above the waves anywhere on the face of the globe that John Bull has neglected to preempt as a substitution for his craft of war.

Except practically in American waters as at Panama and Guantanamo. Uncle Sam has Pearl Harbor alone—not counting Cavite, Guam and San Juan which are so weak as to be liabilities, not assets.

Wherever John Bull needs an armoured—she is right on the job, fresh as paint from a port of his own—bunkers full—ready for instant action.

Wherever Uncle Sam needs one east of Sandy Hook or west of Hawaii—she arrives from a long voyage—fuel low—figuratively out of breath.

In the world conflict, John Bull was able to supplement his official navy with a fleet of approximately 70 good commerce destroyers as any admiralty could ask.

He had 21 of them assigned to his Tenth cruiser squadron alone—to hold the Germans inside the North sea—actually preferred them to some of his older men-o-war.

Naval experts estimate that he could muster 100 now.

They agree that Uncle Sam would be hard put to it to equip a fourth as many.

To put them on an equality as to naval strength how many battle ships would John Bull have to "spot" Uncle Sam as an offset against John's overseas bases?

How many cruisers would John have to spot Sam to offset the former's merchant fleet?

Even if they agreed on these figures—would Uncle Sam care to build the necessary battleships and cruisers to tie the score?

It takes an optimist to dream of a yardstick which will solve that problem.

The most enthusiastic optimist can hardly imagine John Bull as solving it by dividing his naval stations and merchant fleet with Uncle Sam.

However some very moderate optimists think a workable Anglo-American naval reduction basis might be arrived at if the British would abandon their age-old claim to the right of preventing America—and other countries—from trading with any nation with which Britain happens to be at war.

Freedom of the seas.

When John Bull recognizes that principle and not beforehand naval reduction will begin to look possible and maybe a yardstick will be needed according to the most pacifist folk I ever have been able to find in Washington official circles—until President Hoover recently began talking of the yardstick as if it were the whole thing.

Of course Secretary of State Harry L. Stimson imitates him—but heavens knows if he understands what it means.

Our diplomats abroad talk the same way. Even with other powers representatives—British Premier Ramsay MacDonald himself—mentor, "freedom of the seas" Ambassador Charles C. Daves and Hugh S. Gibson hush them up as fast as they can.

There may be some good reason for it all but it certainly is not "open diplomacy."

The used-car problem is now bothering the Philippines.

BEAUTY COMES FROM HEALTH

Fashions Now Emphasize the Natural Healthy Figure

A great change has come over the world of fashion. The slim and angular figure is growing less popular.

Perhaps this is partly due to the warnings of medical specialists that thousands of women and girls were ruining their health by extreme reducing diets. Part of it may be due to a more sensible trend in style. All the world knows today that beauty comes from health.

The health of the public is in the hands of the women. If man were left to his own devices he might eat few foods, and those improperly cooked. Monotony in diet and eventually bodily disorders would result. Sugar is a great ally of women in preparing a varied, balanced diet that is not only healthful, but delightful to the taste and welcomed by every member of the family.

Learn the value of a dash of sugar in making cereals delicious. Use a sprinkling of sugar to encourage the ingestion of grapefruit and other healthful, fresh fruits. A little sugar makes stewed fruits delightful to the palate. And now four women cooking experts have rediscovered the old secret of using a dash of sugar in vegetables while they are cooking in a small amount of water. You will hardly recognize vegetables cooked in this proper way. They are fresher, more colorful, and the vegetable flavors are developed to a point of perfection. Remember also ice cream, cakes, cookies and candy for dessert. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

Mercer Odd Fellows Planning Picnic

Will Meet This Evening To Make Preliminary Arrangements For Coming Event

MERCER, Pa., July 10.—The Odd Fellows picnic committee meets this evening in the Odd Fellows Temple and the plans for the annual picnic will be discussed. The children of the Meadville home are always the honor guests at this outing, and the date was changed from this Saturday until August 10. There are several things yet to be settled and a committee to appoint yet so it is hoped that every one will be present at the meeting this Wednesday evening July 10.

START PAVING JOB
The preliminary work has been started on the paving of McKinley avenue from East Market street to the borough line. The contractor Paul Thompson is at work on a section which is being constructed along the side of the road. This is necessary as there is no other way to get to the hospital after the work has started.

A slight delay in getting started has been experienced due to the city engineer being unable to furnish the grades due to a rush of work in the Greenville office.

ON MOTOR TRIP
Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Blatt and Mr. Blatt's mother left Sunday on a motor trip to the United States Military Academy at West Point where they will visit with their son Richard who is a cadet there. The trip was planned some time ago but was postponed due to injuries sustained when Mr. Blatt was struck by an automobile.

ATTENDS RACES
B. N. Huey is attending the running races at Fort Niagara, Canada, this week. Mr. Huey left the last of the week and expects to return Wednesday spending about four days at the races.

RETURN TO MERCER
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson have returned to Mercer to make their home with Frank Beachler. Mr. Beachler's sister Mrs. Dill returned to her home in Chicago this week, leaving Mr. Beachler alone Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and daughter moved back to Mercer. Mr. Thompson will drive back and forth to his work in Grove City.

Postal Deficit Is Now Acute

President And Advisers Are Squarely Up Against Need For Change

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 10.—A postal deficit more serious than had hitherto been calculated confronted the administration and brought President Hoover and his advisers squarely up against the question of increasing rates or decreasing service.

The situation was discussed at the cabinet meeting Tuesday and it was shown for the first time that the post-office operated at a loss of $95,000,000 for the fiscal year just ended on June 30. This is exclusively of the $42,000,000 which is due the railroads for back pay, and which would bring the total "red ink" figures for 1929 to $137,000,000.

Just what is to be done about it has not been decided, but President Hoover considers that the postoffice is a business institution and as such should pay its way.

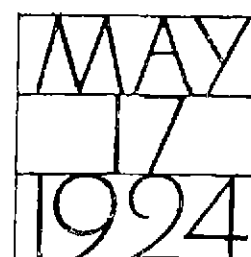

ATLANTA MAN TO HEAD ELKS

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 10.—Col. Walter Pemberton Andrews of Atlanta, Ga., was elected grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, in annual convention here.

He succeeds Murray Hubert of New York City.

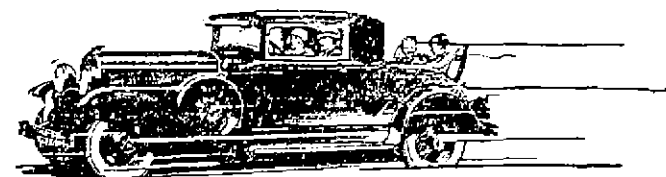

Atlantic City, N. J., was expected to be selected as the 1930 convention city.

A FACT FIVE YEARS AGO AND STILL A FACT TODAY

"Out of a clear sky, the Chrysler has brought the motor car industry to the point invariably reached in any industry of economic importance. + That is the point where revolutionary improvements and advancements begin to render the original invention obsolete—when previous practice is brought to a full stop. + That never happens until the newest product proves its right to precedence, of greatly simplified design, greater efficiency and operating results that are radically different."

WHAT CHRYSLER HAS DONE

It is hard to recall the day when there were no Chrysler cars; difficult to remember a time when the flashing Chrysler wings had not yet appeared on the world's highways.

And yet that was not so long ago—only five years, in fact. So sudden the rise of Chrysler in public esteem and so complete its capture of public favor that one can scarcely believe Chrysler cars have occupied a dominant position for fewer than half a dozen years.

Where it has taken the average automobile ten to twenty-five years of gradual, plodding growth to achieve public acclaim, Chrysler has risen swiftly to a foremost and topmost place in the industry in less than five short years!

What Chrysler has done is without parallel. Overnight, a name became a symbol of speed, quality, beauty and safety. At Christmas, 1923, the Chrysler emblem meant nothing in the public mind. By Easter, 1924, it had come to stand for leadership—a claim undenied to this day.

Fads come and go. Some motor cars have their brief hour of popularity and then are forgotten. Chrysler's unprecedented leap into a position in the van of the industry was neither forced nor accidental. That place was won by inherent worth and undeniable value. Today, Chrysler is firmly entrenched at the top, offering the finest performance in its history. A ride will prove a revelation.

Federal Aid Fund Available For State

Federal Aid Highway Construction To Continue In State

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10.—After the completion of the construction of 2,062.5 miles of federal aid highway in Pennsylvania on May 31, a total of $3,079,305.13 remained in the federal aid road funds available for new projects in the state. The bureau of public roads announces in a statement on the current status of federal aid road construction.

In addition to the 2,062.5 miles of federal highway completed in Pennsylvania by the last day of May, 1929, miles were under construction. To be completed at a cost of $2,073,958.30. Of this amount, the federal government will pay $3,245,057.84.

The further construction of 47.3 miles of highway in the state had been approved on May 31, according to the roads bureau report. The construction of this mileage would cost $1,866,809.70, according to estimates, of which the government would pay $566,255.67.

Once your home is built—you cannot take it apart to show that it is well constructed. Although you may know that the best of materials were used in building your home—you may some day want to prove this fact to others.

A Certificate of Quality solves this problem. It is documentary evidence that your building is constructed of known material—guaranteed material—CERTIFIED MATERIAL. The Certificate contains an honest description of the grades and quality of each item of material used.

The Certificate of Quality will greatly facilitate bank loans and mortgage renewals—make it easier to sell the property at a satisfactory profit.

Always specify CERTIFIED MATERIAL and insist on having a Certificate of Quality to protect your building investment.

Invoke Old Law In Naming Of Registers For Election

ERIE, Pa., July 10.—County commissioners today are battling over the appointment of registers of election under a law which has existed on the statute books of Pennsylvania for many years, but which has never before been adhered to in Erie county.

The law, which apparently was set up by party leaders in this county, states the appointment of registers of election shall be made by commissioners upon the petition of persons seeking the appointment. The petition must be filed with commissioners, and the applicants required to appear for examination on Monday morning, has been inserted in local newspapers today. Qualifications are that the applicant must be sober, able to read and write, and hold no other elective or appointive position in the county.

The law, requiring appointments to be made on petition, is said to state that the last date for filing petitions is July 5.

Previously, on that date, petitions for registers appointments from practically all districts of the city were filed in commissioners' office at about 10 minutes before the office was scheduled to close. The petitions were left there by Harry Russell, deputy sheriff and prominent member of the Republican county committee, and Joseph Schilling, chairman of the Democratic county committee.

Up until that time, commissioners had no idea of the movement that was under way to secure appointments of registers from among the committee members.

The law on the matter was then locked up, and so far as can be ascertained today, the action on the part of committee leaders was legal.

Commissioners Allan H. MacLean and Charles R. Davis were strenuous in their objection to the action taken by the political committees. Both men claim that it will result in practically a total disruption of their plans for register appointments, and will take the positions away from registers who have served many times in the past and who are in need of the salaries paid to registers.

Commissioner Joseph Rozan was apparently well satisfied with matters as they now stand.

"It will protect both parties," he said, "and provide that the proper number of registers from each party is appointed."

TELLS OF WESTERN SCENES

Jersey, N.J., July 4, 1929.

Mr. George Conway,

Editor News:

Thirty-two years ago I herded sheep

on Duell & Sargent, 20 miles south of Lack and 12 miles north of Fort Summit. The sheds and corals were in the old stage line that once ran

from Cheyenne to the Black Hills,

where there had once been a stage station. To the southeast was Cas-berry hill, that commanded a view of the road for five miles each way;

where Jack Slade, a notorious desper-ado and road agent, had a dugout, and was one of his hide-out places.

According to Mr. Duell, he was so industrious that people avoided this line and traveled by rival lines till

the proprietor got desperate and bought Jack off for $500. After the deal was made and the money paid

he said to old Jack, "Now you will leave me alone, will you?"

"Of course I will leave you alone," said

Jack. "I never got over $50 or $60 a hold-up on your line, while on the other lines they got $500 or $600

a hold-up."

He was good as his word and went over onto Dale creek, where some freighters got their hands on him and hung him on the propped up gooseneck of a trailer wagon. But his widow claimed that there was a beer

bottle of cold dust buried at this dig-out, that she could never find it. I always wanted to help him for it. One cool day I got the sheep out far enough from water that I could get up and have a look at it. Others had been digging around most everywhere. But I reasoned that Jack had buried it the nearest place out of sight of the door, so that his wife

could not get her hands on it. And after 22 years I went back yesterday

to have a try at it, and came away a sadder and wiser man. Some fellows had taken it up and sold it out to a

Mr. Myers. And someone had plowed

up the place where I thought Jack would bury his loot for a potato patch. And I suppose all the buried treasure I will ever dig up will be from some other one.

Before writing this I have verified

this "Slade story" from other sources,

which is a wise thing to do in this country. From the history of the

"Boreman Trail" I also learned that

Slade commenced independent operations while serving as agent at La-ham, a station eight miles east of the present town of Glenora, Wyo., on the old overland stage route to California.

If the trip did not net any gold dust it was well worth it to see the changes that have taken place. The country is all taken up down there and they are raising pretty good

wheat and corn on much of the land

I once herded sheep on. The corn was eight or nine inches high and it had been quite dry lately—they plant

in shallow furrows to save the moisture. But in time much of this land will go back to cattle and sheep raising, and is doing so now rather fast.

Down around the Raw Hide buttes,

which are really small mountains in a chain of hills extending down from the Black Hills, and are halfway between the two railroads, the country

is rather open yet and is a stockman's paradise. I went back up on the west side and certainly enjoyed

that part of the trip very much.

These buttes or mountains got their name from a tragedy in which the

A caravan was going through to the Black Hills. In this caravan was a feet who said that when he got among the Indians he was going to shoot one, and did shoot a squaw on the first opportunity. The Indians demanded that they give him up or they would wipe out the whole bunch.

Says Nineteen Dangerous Age For Young Ladies

NEW YORK, July 10.—If a girl gets safely past the age of 19, the chances are she won't become a criminal, a report made today by Elizabeth R. Butler, social worker, indicated.

After four months study of women inmates of city penal institutions, where she mingled with her subjects and got their stories first hand, Miss Butler forwarded her report to Commissioner of Corrections Richard C. Patterson.

Nineteen appears to be the dangerous age for women who are apt to get into trouble with the law, according to Miss Butler's report. In the various classes of female prisoners, she found the percentages of the 19-year-olds to range from 19 to 39 per cent. Most of the others were under 19.

Pittsburgh Milk Strike Is Settled

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, July 10.—The milk strike at the Liberty Dairy Products company plant here had been settled today, after nearly two months of dickering between employers and drivers. Both sides were understood to have made concessions.

The strike was featured by several outbreaks of violence, the latest yesterday when a driver was slugged and his wagon set afire by a mob. The drivers were accorded a raise in wages of $3.50 a week, with a $35 minimum scale. The company won its point that leaders in the strike would not be rehired.

Eighty Take Test To Teach Value Of Visual Education

Eighty Spring Graduates Licensed To Operate Portable Picture Machines

HARRISBURG, July 10.—Eighty members of the June graduating classes of Pennsylvania State Teachers' Colleges have been licensed as operators of portable moving picture machines. Through a co-operative agreement between the Department of Public Instruction and the Department of Labor and Industry examinations were given graduates of the State Teachers' Colleges last week, and those teachers who satisfactorily passed the examinations received from the Department of Labor and Industry licenses to operate portable moving picture machines. The licensing of these teachers is part of the Department of Public Instruction's program for teacher preparation and the improvement of instruction in the schools of the Commonwealth.

As early as the seventeenth century, Johann Comenius, the illustrious German educator, declared that: "The teaching of words and things must go together. Practical application must accompany every advance in knowledge to give it firm and full lodgment within the mind. The hand and eye must be used in the whole process of education." His celebrated Orbis Pictus, the first visualized textbook in the world, was built around this principle. American educators appreciate the value of Comenius' philosophy. Pennsylvania school districts are increasingly recognizing licensed operators for portable moving picture machines for use in the classroom that the proper relationship between things, or pictures of things, and their symbols may be established early in the mind of the child. Because of this, Pennsylvania State Teachers' Colleges provided the opportunity for their students to secure this training. The eighty candidates who received licenses represent the first graduates who have taken this work in addition to their regular teacher preparation courses.

New Castle Doctor Directs Long Fight To Save Swimmer

VERMILION, O., July 10.—From 6:30 last evening until after 10 tonight doctors and coast guards battled at Linwood Beach here to save the life of Carl A. Gregory, engineer for the James H. Herron Co., Cleveland, who was seized with cramps while swimming in the lake. At 10 it was believed that the battle might be won, according to Dr. Samuel Warner of New Castle, Pa., who was directing the resuscitation efforts.

Dr. Warner, who has a cottage at the beach, and Paul W. Goss, Red Cross life saving expert from Lorain, worked unceasingly over Gregory by the light of lanterns. Gregory, who has a cottage at Vermilion, went in bathing after supper with Daniel Horwitz of 1473 E. 108th street, Cleveland, and several others. Suddenly Gregory showed signs of distress and sank. Horwitz pulled him to shore. Then began the battle to save the man's life.

Greenwood Endowment Fund Grows Rapidly

Announcement Is Made That It Has Not Reached $20,000

At the quarterly meeting of the directors of the Greenwood Cemetery Company, held last night at the office of the company, report of the cemetery endowment fund held in trust by the Union Savings and Trust Company of New Castle showed a total of $18,734.27 in cash deposited in it and in turn invested for income purposes for the benefit of the cemetery. Only the income of the fund is available for the use of the company, no part of the principal ever being touched.

The directors voted that funds sufficient to bring the total of the endowment to $20,000 be taken from surplus funds on hand and be deposited at once in the fund. With the bringing of the endowment to the magnificent total of $20,000 in a few years, the company now has available for further increase of the fund a large number of pledges signed by property owners a number of years ago, under which it was agreed to pay to the endowment fund of the secretary the amounts designated on them when the endowment fund shall have reached 80 per cent of the original endowment fund sought, amounting to $25,000.

These pledges are now due and payable under the agreement made by the signers of the pledges, and the directors took action last night seeking the collection of the same as soon as possible. When these pledges have been collected the total of the original endowment fund will have been reached and may be exceeded. As it has been found necessary to make the endowment as large as possible, the directors will continue their efforts to make the endowment fund sufficient to eventually take care of the cemetery in perpetuity and without the collection of dues for the care of the individual lots. It is hoped to make the fund reach $50,000 or more in the next few years.

Bull-Bear Battle Engages Market

By W. S. COLEMAN
International News Service Financial Editor
NEW YORK, July 10.—Speculative interest in the stock market today returned to the public utility stocks and high-priced specialties, many of which have been on the inactive list for the last few weeks. Bulls and Bears shortly afternoon staged a battle royal over Radio, Columbia Graphophone and a few other active shares. The Bears carrying off the honors at the start, but showing the white flag when the market displayed signs of stiffening.

When the Bulls found it impossible to push up the railroad stocks, on the strength of the extremely favorable car-loading reports, they turned their attention to the Utilities. The dwindling market supply of these stocks made it comparatively easy to wear down the Bears, who always become alarmed over swiftly rising prices. Consolidated Gas assumed leadership in the Utilities, its 4-point jump to 123 1/2 accompanying reports of an early consummation of the New York City Utility merger.

Public Service of New Jersey, Columbia Gas and Electric, Standard Gas, North American, National Power and Light and a few other of the June speculative leaders forged to the center of the stage in one of their characteristic brilliant moves. At 23 Peoples Gas of Chicago showed a 23-point advance over last week's closing price.

Radio's decline to below 80 was considered a victory for the Bears, the stock having declined about 13 points in the last ten days, principally on rumors of a disappointing showing in its second-quarter earnings statement. United States Steel and General Electric, together with most of the motor and copper stocks, were on the inactive list.

Heydler Hearing Wilson Fight Case

Belligerent "Hack" In Second Trial Growing Out Of Cincinnati Trouble

By DAVID J. WALSH
Special Editor International News Service
NEW YORK, July 10.—With testimony furnished by Adolfo Luque, veteran pitcher, and Joe Stripp and Bill Zimman, substitute infielder and outfielder respectively, the Cincinnati club closed its case today in the charges against "Hack" Wilson, Chicago outfielder, growing out of his fight with Pete Donohue, Cincinnati pitcher, in a railroad depot last week. Wilson was fined $100 and suspended for three days for his fight with Ray Kemp, Cincinnati pitcher, during the ball game that preceded the Donohue incident. The testimony today, which was made before President John A. Heydler, concerned only the Donohue case.

Wilson and the other Chicago witnesses will be heard on Friday. Heydler declared, the delay having been necessary by their late arrival in town this morning and the fact that they are to play a double header with the Giants tomorrow.

Cleared Up Soon.
"The matter should be cleared up on Friday or by Saturday morning at the latest," Heydler said. "The Donohue incident occurred off the ball field and, therefore, it didn't figure in my original decision on Wilson because this was predicated on the reports rendered by my umpires. The constitution, however, empowers me to act on anything that occurs off the ball field, provided formal charges are made. These have been brought by the Cincinnati club.

"The constitution says that any ball player who is found guilty of gross misbehavior in a public place, whether on or off the field during the regular season may suffer a fine not in excess of $200 and an indefinite suspension. It is the purpose of the hearings I am holding this week to determine Wilson's guilt or innocence of the charges preferred."

Officer Arrests Man's Assailant

As Motorcycle Officer McKee was making his rounds on West Home street last night he discovered that something was wrong in the home of Angelo Pasquarello, 2 West Home street, and stopped to investigate.

On entering the home, he found Tony Bernie bleeding from a severe wound on the head. Bernie stated that his brother-in-law, Pasquarello, with whom he resides, had hit him on the head with a ball bat. Bernie was removed to the New Castle hospital, where his wound was closed with a number of stitches. He was ordered to remain there for several days owing to the possibility of a fracture of the skull.

Pasquarello was arrested and is being held pending the outcome of the injury of his brother-in-law. He is charged with felonious assault and battery on the police officer.

Irwin Attorney Held On Charge Of Embezzlement

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 10.—Attorney George W. Flowers, of Irwin, today was released on $5,000 bail on charges of embezzlement growing out of an alleged shortage of between $28,000 and $30,000 in the accounts of the Equitable Building and Loan Association of Irwin. Flowers was secretary of the association.

At a preliminary hearing Flowers' counsel, State Senator John E. Kunkle, of Greensburg, told the court that his client had made good the shortage before the information against him was made by a Representative of the State Banking Department.

Frank W. Jackson, a special deputy to the secretary of banking at Harrisburg, said the information against Flowers was filed by John Volk, of the Building and Loan vision of the department.

Legion Gets Many Funeral Requests

Three requests for military funerals have been received by the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, during the past four days, officials of the post state.

The local post is always glad to assist in this matter, but recently adopted a ruling, whereby they will not request members of the post to lay off work to conduct a military funeral, unless the deceased veteran is a member of the post. They feel that it is only fair to ask that the veterans affiliate with this organization, in order to secure the benefits that the post is able to disburse.

Members of the post are privileged to act in this matter as suits their own individual wishes, but the post has taken the stand that members will not be asked to lose work to attend a military funeral unless the deceased veteran is a member of the post.

Girl Eats Hundred Ice Cream Cones

(International News Service)

NEW KENSINGTON Pa., July 10.—

The ice cream cone eating championship of the world, in case somebody claims it is disputed today by Caroline Bierhals, 18 of this city. She consumed 100 cones of assorted flavors in rapid succession on a bet.

"Buy me an ice cream cone, Frankie," she pleaded with Frank Vidlow, her companion.

"I'll buy you a hundred if you'll eat 'em," returned Vidlow and Miss Bierhals "took him on."

The first five were just appetizers. Miss Bierhals said, while she decided which flavors she liked best. The next 25 were easy and 50 weren't so easy. Miss Bierhals is an American young woman, seventy-five and 85 were reached and then the would-be champ weakened. The last 15 were downed only with the aid of Miss Sonia Lou Slovic, self-appointed manager.

The new champion if there is a championship for that sort of thing returned to work and today was little the worse except for a slight pain in her side she said. However it was reliably reported the "champion" was retiring from competition.

Will Rush Work On Walmo Road

T. C. Frame, Highway Superintendent, Says Work Will Be Rushed

Work toward the completion of the 30 foot highway to Walmo will be rushed to completion according to the committee composed of William E. Ferver, William Caldwell and S. R. Hays, who met with T. C. Frame, division highway superintendent in this city Tuesday afternoon.

The work has been retarded due to the delay concerning the Euclid avenue storm sewer according to Frame and as this has been but recently settled between the city and state, work will begin immediately.

Residents of the Walmo district who have been hampered in due to the closing of the road were represented by these three men on Tuesday.

The belief was that work was progressing slowly on the road and the residents felt that an investigation should be made as well as an attempt put through to hurry the work on the route.

Another Says He Pleaded Guilty Without Cause

Declares That He Did Not Know He Was Entering Plea

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 10.—Still another witness took the stand at the reopening of the investigation into election conditions in Homestead during the 1928 senatorial campaign today and testified that he, too, had pleaded guilty to charges of fraud at his trial with four others before Judge James H. Gray here last May without knowing what charges had been made against him.

The witness today was W. J. McDonaugh, election judge in the fourth district, second ward of Homestead. When McDonaugh made his statement regarding his ignorance of the charges during the May trial, Senator Charles W. Waterman, Democrat of Colorado, who is sitting as a subcommittee of the senate elections committee, expressed his incredulity at the fact that five persons should plead guilty without knowing what they had admitted.

The present series of hearings is part of the probe of the senate committee resulting from the charges brought by William B. Wilson, Democratic senatorial candidate in the 1928 campaign, against Senator-elect William S. Vare, the Republican candidate, in contesting Vare's election.

McDonaugh explained that he had pleaded guilty to all charges placed against him "on advice of my attorney although I didn't know what the charges were." At previous hearings this week three other witnesses had also admitted that they pleaded guilty in the May trials without knowing the charges.

Under questioning by counsel for both Vare and Wilson McDonaugh admitted that card parties, dances and other social activities were promoted. He didn't know by whom, to pay attorney fees and court costs in the cases.

He also admitted that he had served 31 days of a 60 day sentence imposed as the result of his plea before Judge Gray. He then said that when he was released costs of more than $1,000 in the five cases had been paid through the parties and dances.

Proper Legal Reform Declared Task For Several Successive Lifetimes

Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, July 10.—With dozens of volumes more laws already than the government can keep track of according to legal authorities generally—

With hundreds—maybe thousands—of old laws still un repealed, that not even the wisest lawyer knows of, except as he may happen on one of them accidentally, like a geologist stumbling on a new kind of fossil, (according to Chairman Roy G. Fitzgerald of the house of representatives' committee on legal revision)—

With an impossible task, though about half of them ought to be repealed (according to Congressman John N. Garner, leader of the minority party in the representatives' chamber)—

America continues to pass additional laws faster than any other "five of the world's leading countries put together" (according to General Counsel James A. Emery of the National Association of Manufacturers, who considers many laws an unmitigated nuisance).

America is at an advantage over the rest of the world in the matter of legislative record keeping because of the co-operation between congress and all the 48 states' respective lawmaking bodies.

Counselor Emery puts their average biennial output at something over 12,000 statutes.

However, nobody can make even a good guess at the size of the entire accumulation of new and old ones—heaven only knows how many of the latter are lying dormant.

"Dormant" is right; they are not dead.

Every now and then some slick lawyer digs up one of these ancient remnants to spring on his rival unexpectedly and throw him into disorder. It usually does so—just as an arrow through his vitals would disconcert a modern soldier.

Quite a noteworthy instance of this was brought to congress attention a few years ago by the late Colonel James B. Ownbey, Colorado mining engineer.

The pre-revolutionary law of the type referred to above—it was known as the "Custom of London"—had been utilized against him in the Delaware courts some time previously at a cost to the colonel in excess of a million, and he resented it bitterly.

ROY G. FITZGERALD

In due course the lawyer who had played the trick on him was appointed to the United States Supreme court and the colonel hastened to Washington to fight his confirmation by the Senate.

He lost, the senators deeming it legal fair play; but they did agree that such laws ought not to be left un repealed on the statute books.

In fact, the scandalized Delaware legislature already had repealed the "Custom of London"—repeal does occasionally follow, after the damage has been done—and tried to do it retroactively, but the supreme court vetoed that.

Of course all this case proves is that such legal confusion is dangerous sometimes even sidestepping a pretty influential individual, like Colonel Ownbey, who is overheard when he howls about it.

Incidentally, some members of congress insist that it breeds disrespect of law—so much complained of recently.

Congressman Fitzgerald of the representatives' legal revision committee adds that many laws are hazy; that they conflict; that one law often enables a person to evade another law; that there are laws which nobody can find, as well as laws which nobody ever heard of; that the whole situation is a terrible hodge-podge.

It seems like a good proposition for President Hoover's law enforcement commission to tackle—how can laws be enforced which are so muddled?

The difficulty is that the presidential commission is too temporary.

Congressman Fitzgerald says that adequate legal reform is a job for several successive lifetimes.

Negro May Get Post

A consistent rumor afloat at Washington, D. C., says that President Hoover and Attorney-General Mitchell are giving serious consideration to the appointment of R. L. Vann, above, a Pittsburgh negro, as Assistant Attorney-General. Vann, it will be remembered, played a prominent part in the Presidential campaign.

Husband And Wife Take Solo Flights Over Curtiss Field

VALLEY STREAM, L. I., July 10.—A new record for flight by husband and wife was created here when Mr. and Mrs. F. Lemoyne Page of R. D. No. 1, Sharpshurg, Pa., took their solo flights the same day at Curtiss Field. They had come here from Pittsburgh to learn flying and after two weeks' instruction by Curtiss Field instructors were pronounced ready for their solo flight.

This is the first time on record that two members of a family have qualified for solo flying within so short space after starting instruction and the first time husband and wife have made their first solo flights the same day.

Suggestion Made On License Plates

It has been suggested at the police station that the recovery of lost license plates would be expedited, especially as far as the police department is concerned, if the person losing the plates, whether a dealer, business concern or individual, would have a smaller plate attached to the bottom of the license plates giving their respective names.

This practice has been followed for some time by one local concern and, with amazing success, the license plates when lost always returning to the owner as soon as it becomes known where to deliver it.

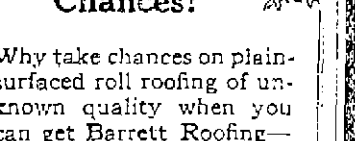

This is especially true of dealers' licenses, as the only way that the police here know whose dealers' license it may be is by such a name plate, no copy of the dealer's licenses issued by the state ever having been received here.

Uncle Sam To Aid State In Battling Fires In Forests

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10.—The adjustment by the federal government of $49,351 to assist Pennsylvania in protecting forests of the state from forest fires was announced today by the United States department of agriculture.

The adjustment is made under the provisions of the Clarke-McNary law of 1924 and will be expended in forest protection work in Pennsylvania during the fiscal year which began July first. Provisions of the Clarke-McNary law provide that the state forestry service must duplicate the federal appropriation to be expended in defending forest lands from fires.

Costs are met by a three-way division, the federal government, the states, and the private land owners all bearing a share. The total of state and private expenditures reported by the thirty-eight co-operating states for the calendar year 1928 was $2,700,000. The area of forest land which was covered by some form of organized protection during 1928 was 237,292,650 acres, out of a total of 416,147,700 acres needing such protection.

Opera Stars Get Temperamental Over Walking Mere 18 Stories To Sing

CHICAGO, July 10.—It was to have been a great broadcast here yesterday afternoon by Station WGNR from the thirty-ninth floor of the special studio in the New Opera Building. Cyrena Van Gordon and many prominent opera stars were all set to BUTLER, Pa., July 10.—Notwithstanding efforts of W. H. Martin, attorney for Benjamin H. Harvey, 35, of Chicora, to convince Judge James M. WASHINGTON, July 10.—Not even Calvin Coolidge knows what a Governor of North Carolina is supposed to have said to a Governor of South Carolina when they met, but only a few in Washington heard what the President of the United States said to the King of Spain when their voices were brought together a few months ago.

Witnesses Deny To Plead Guilty

Declare They Did Not Know "No Defense" Was Plea Of Guilty

By FRANCIS L. ARMSTRONG
Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, July 10.—The rapid succession of witnesses who claimed they pleaded "no defense" to charges of election fraud, before Judge James Gray, without knowing they were pleading "guilty" by so doing, continued today in the Vane-Wilson senatorial investigation here.

The witnesses, several of whom had been serving workhouse sentences for alleged fraud in Homestead districts during the November, 1926 election in which William S. Vare defeated William B. Wilson, universally denied knowledge of fraud, and maintained they pleaded guilty "because they attorneys said it was the thing to do."

H. H. Ehrhardt, serving a term in Allegheny county jail for alleged participation in frauds in the third district, second ward, Homestead, told Senator Charles W. Waterman, Colorado Democrat and chairman of the senate committee on elections, that a "no defense" plea was entered for him without his knowledge.

Defendants in the Homestead cases, under questioning by Senator Waterman and Attorney Kelly, for Vare, said they had not known Devin until they were notified he would defend them, and that Devin had not sent any of them a bill for his services.

NEW MEDICINE IS WONDERFUL, LADY DECLARES

Is Thankful For Ten Herbs—Ended Ills Endured For Years.

No one can reasonably doubt the exceptional merit of the new natural medicine, Ten Herbs, because every day come reports from men and women who tell how this compound with the ten wonderful herbal ingredients

completely ended such health troubles as stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders, rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness, and a general weak, run-down condition for which they had tried other medicines in vain. No wonder there is such a great demand for Ten Herbs at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington St., this city, where this famous preparation is being introduced.

"I think Ten Herbs is a wonderful medicine—it certainly did me a world of good," was the recent statement of Mrs. Florence Stepp, Christie Avenue, Butler, Pa. "My stomach and kidneys had troubled me for years. I could not eat a meal without feeling distressed—was sure to be bloated and be troubled with gas and heartburn. I could not keep enough food on my stomach to give me proper strength. Nervousness caused me trouble. I was unable to get a good night's rest, and would feel very bad upon getting up in the morning. The slightest thing would irritate me, and I was subject to severe headaches and backaches. There were sharp pains across my back, and I was bothered with rheumatism. I became dizzy when I stooped over, and specks would flash before my eyes, which would have puffed under them in the morning. I tried different laxatives for constipation, but nothing gave me satisfactory results. I was troubled with catarrh in my head, which would be stopped up in the morning. I felt used and worn out all the time."

"A friend told me what wonderful good Ten Herbs had done her, so I decided to try your medicine. I am thankful that I used Ten Herbs for now I do not have the least trouble with my stomach or kidneys. I can eat anything any time and not be troubled with gas or bloating. My nerves are in good condition. I sleep soundly and get up feeling fine. Headaches and backaches are gone, and I am free of rheumatism. I no longer have dizzy spells, and my eyes do not trouble me any more. Constipation has been relieved. It gives me pleasure to endorse Ten Herbs to the public."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington St., this city, and is sold by all leading druggists throughout this entire section.

FORT MONROE, Va., July 10.—Representative J. Howard Swick of the 26th United States congressional district was the speaker at the ceremony of oath taking, as more than 550 candidates of the Citizens Military Training camp battalion swore allegiance to their country at this historic post.

July Starting Out To Set Record For Rainfall In Month

Closes To Six Inches Of Rain Already Recorded During First Eight Days Of Month

With only one rainless day recorded during the month of July, so far, indications point to a record being established for excessive precipitation during the current month.

Two extremely heavy rains have been recorded so far this month, 2.92 inches having fallen on the night of July 4th, while 1.92 inches was recorded during the past 24-hours. B. F. Johnson, local observer, reports. The total to date is recorded as 6.22 inches. Only 5.67 inches of rain fell during the entire month of June, so the month's total so far is nearly twice as much as that for the preceding month.

July, as a rule, is a dry month, but the present July is anything else but, and unless the present situation changes, farmers of the county are going to have a hard time getting in their hay crop. Wheat and rye is also coming along and will be ready for harvest in a few days.

The 24-hour record ending at 5 o'clock on the morning of July 4th, has been the only one in which no rain has fallen. Records for seven 24-hour periods have shown a total of 14.50 inches of rain during July.

Livestock Value On Farms Shows $7,000,000 Gain

Estimated Total Puts State 13th For Entire United States

HARRISBURG, July 10.—Pennsylvania, with a greater aggregate value of livestock on farms than the New England states, New Jersey and Delaware combined, ranks thirteenth among all the states in total value of cattle, sheep, horses and mules, according to the Bureau of Statistics, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

The value of livestock on farms in the Commonwealth on January 1, 1929, was ascertained at $180,182,090, compared with $173,182,090 on the corresponding date a year previous.

Seven counties each had farm animals valued at more than $5,000,000 on January 1 this year, the aggregate being $49,465,490, compared to $46,172,530 on January 1, 1928. This increase of $3,292,960 accounts for almost half of the total increase in the value of livestock on farms in the entire state during the past year.

Pennsylvania is now one of the six greatest livestock states east of the Mississippi river, being surpassed only by Wisconsin, Illinois, New York, Ohio and Indiana. In total value of dairy cattle, this commonwealth stands fifth, being outranked only by Wisconsin, New York, Minnesota and Iowa. In average value of dairy cattle per head, Pennsylvania exceeds all those states excepting New York.

Lawrence county is 20th in the rank of counties with livestock valued at $2,273,180.

HELD FOR COURT
When given a hearing before Justice T. W. McClain on Monday evening on a charge of stealing chickens, preferred by his neighbor, M. G. Coulter, John W. Cameron was held for the October term of criminal court on the sum of $1,000. The justice had intended to make bail $500, but when District Attorney Leo H. McKay told the court that in view of the fact that Cameron had previously been convicted of the same offense, and also due to the repeated raids that have been made on the chicken coops of the county, the theft of chickens having been epidemic for several years, he thought that the bail should not be less than $1,000 and taking the circumstances into consideration the justice agreed to this amount.

SIXTEENERS TO MEET
Members of the Sixteeners association of the Mercer soldiers' orphan schools have received notices of the coming reunion to be held in Mercer on August 14-15. The notice comes in the form of an original poem in which all members are urged to attend this outing and reunion. The program committee is preparing entertainment for the occasion and the usual feature will be the annual picnic on the Mercer fair grounds which was the playground for their school days.

Legion Prepares For 1930 Drive

Hope To Have Largest Membership
In History Of Post
During Coming Year

With 332 members on the rolls this year, active preparations are already being made by the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, to place the membership over the 500 mark.

The membership of the post this year is the second largest in the history of the post. Shortly after the post was organized, and when the dues of the organization were but a nominal sum, the post boasted of a membership just a little over the 500 mark.

Dr. H. H. Rosenthal, who has been chairman of the membership committee, states that he is making plans to get an early start on the 1930 campaign, which will be launched late in the fall.

The local post is in line for one of the state cups for the largest gain in membership in their district. This will be presented at state convention in Scranton, when the posts from all over the state will assemble in annual session.

Red Cross Gets Safety Posters For Distribution

Safety first posters prepared by the American National Red Cross are now available to all camps throughout the country, the local chapter announces. Washington headquarters has sent a large supply here with the hope that campers of the adjacent community will use them.

Informing the campers and others as to ways in which drownings might be prevented is one of the direct contributions of the Red Cross to any community.

The Way OF THE World

THE MERGER AGE

This is the age of the chain and the merger. The vast demand for volume has stimulated men to greater production and greater economy at the same time. Perhaps suggested by the world of business and by the growing demand for efficiency, the merger idea has reached into the churches. Canada led the way with a United Church. It is not a complete job but it is of large significance. Other mergers have been discussed in this column. Now the Reformed Evangelical and the United Brethren are discussing union.

The popularity of mergers indicates, above all else, the gradual growth of the spirit of religious tolerance. All mergers may not be wise, but at least the tendency toward mergers is a good sign.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

The family doctor is coming back. He is going to come into his own. About 85 per cent of graduates from medical colleges have been becoming specialists and surgeons. The percentage won't keep up. The demand for the general practitioner is too great. Humanity has definite need of the wide experience and friendly counsel of the family doctor of the old style. It is a great field for young men who are willing to work hard and who want to make their lives count.

ARBITRATION

One road that the arbitration board in New York grants 8,000 railway workers increased wages. This plan beats the strike, which bids fair to pass out of American industrial life.

FOR THE BOYS

If you want to do something worth while for a boy send him to a summer camp. The Y. M. C. A. and some other organizations sponsor camps where boys live the healthiest kind of life in the country for at least a limited period. Hundreds of men, seeking to do some definite good within their financial means, can send boys to Y. M. C. A. camps and other camps for a few weeks. This is a sound investment and it is bound to pay dividends of happiness all around.

UNDERSTANDING THE OTHER FELLOW

A mistake which some very able men make is to underestimate the intelligence of the other fellow. There are enough folks who are dumb. No doubt about that—but it is never safe to assume too great a degree of dumbness on the part of the man you are dealing with.

Urges Local People To Become Familiar With New Currency

Schulz Sounds Warning On Possible Counterfeiting Attempts Of New Money

Frank A. Schulz, executive vice-president of the Lawrence Savings & Trust Company, today issued a warning to local residents to familiarize themselves with the new currency which was issued today by the local banks.

With only a limited amount of the money available, and with such a drastic change in the style and printing, many who have not had an opportunity to study the new money, could be easily taken in by counterfeiters.

The new money will probably not gain a wide circulation until fall, as it will be issued only in small quantities for several months.

Mr. Schulz urges the residents of New Castle to study the new money carefully, once they secure a home, so that they will be able to detect any counterfeiting attempts.

Buller Explains Bait Law Change

Don't Have To Buy Bait From Growers, Says Buller

HARRISBURG, July 10.—The board of fish commissioners recently has been besieged with telephone calls and telegrams from fishermen in all sections of the Commonwealth who are not quite clear on the amendments to the bait law, thinking that under these amendments they must purchase their bait from a commercial grower.

Commissioner N. R. Buller today explained the situation as follows:

The individual fisherman can still continue to get his City 50¢ bait fish in public waters for his own use, providing he has his license and does not use any other device than those stated in the pamphlet, a copy of which was given to him at the time his license was taken out. This provides for a minnow seine or dip net not over four feet square or four feet in diameter.

The amendments to the law concerned only the dealer in bait who must purchase bait from a commercial grower in order to have more than fifty 50¢ in his possession, the amendment provides that the dealer can keep the bait until disposed of, in purchasing bait from a dealer the fisherman may purchase as many as he desires, and the dealer will provide him with a certificate showing the number purchased, and the name of the dealer from whom purchased. The dealer is protected by the commercial grower who issues him a bill of sale giving the number purchased and the hatchery number as licensed by the Board of Fish Commissioners. The board is always glad to supply any information to the fishermen and welcomes correspondence at any time on things they do not understand. Commissioner Buller said.

Schmeling Vs. Loughran

---Hold Up All Laughs; It May Come To Pass!

By WILLIAM RITT
Sport Editor of Central Press.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Take a tip of this and see how you like it: Max Schmeling and Tommy Loughran to fight for the world's heavyweight championship!

No bad, eh? It's dawgona good, if you ask us. And the recipe is an easy one: Schmeling to push past Jack Sharkey and the venerable Dempsey, and Loughran to remove Jimmy Braddock out of his way this month—and there it is.

Max is easily the best looking heavy hanging around these days and Tommy as light-heavy champ, a sort of crown prince position to the big title, has proven as willing and eager a light king as we've had for years.

The seasoned Loughran is plenty good enough to stack against the still untried Schmeling. It ought to make a good fight, what is known in the parlance of the business as a natural.

And aside from these two men—Schmeling and Loughran—who rise in the current fight scene is qualified to fight for a title?

That about sums up all your prominent heavies of the present day. There is, it is true, a nice group of young men with a deal of promise on the way, but these chaps need more seasoning.

Reference is to Bob Hunt, the si-

Sharkey's in-and-out, hectic ring career prevents him from serious consideration. Dempsey is too old.

Paulino Uzcudun and Johnny Risko were eliminated by Max, himself. Honest Tom Heeney, the crushed Rock of the Antipodes, has been out of the picture since the night Gene Tunney stopped him.

Jack Delaney is out of the big time. Willie Stribling seems content to continue his career pushing over the palookas in the tall timber. Knute Hansen was finished by Kaye Christner and the old K. O. kid was put out of the way the other night.

Arthur De Kuh is out. Jim Maloney has been off the heavyweight

list so long he is almost forgotten in the big time. George Godfrey, the colored menace, isn't even mentioned these days.

Otto von Porat is the only apparent possibility and he doesn't class with Loughran or Schmeling.

That about sums up all your prominent heavies of the present day. There is, it is true, a nice group of young men with a deal of promise on the way, but these chaps need more seasoning.

gantic Oklahoman; Ernie Schaaf and Les Morrison, the one-time University of Illinois football star who ran up such a formidable string of knockouts, when he first broke into the professional game.

Then there is the aforementioned Jimmy Braddock. Winning, if he can, and holding the light-heavyweight title ought to take up Jimmy's time for a while, but he is bound to grow brazier and better.

We will also have Angus Snyder and a cowboy from Montana known as Les Morrison to reckon with in the future.

Schmeling's success is bound to bring another influx of foreigners, and of what mettle these lads will be remains to be seen.

That's the heavyweight situation today—a bright future but a fair black present.

So, the more we write about it, the better the idea looks—a heavy title bout between Schmeling and Loughran.

It ought to be a good one and it ought to pack 'em in.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

The Story Of The World War
57—Some Interesting Phases Of French Fighting

WHILE THE WORLD WAR CALLED MANY NEW MILITARY INVENTIONS FOR OFFENSE AND DEFENSE, NOT A FEW ANCIENT DEVICES WERE BORROWED FROM THE PAST. TAKING A LEAF FROM THE MIDDLE AGES, STEEL HELMETS WERE ADOPTED AS A PROTECTION AGAINST FALLING SHRAPNEL, GARGES AND RIFLE-BUTTS.

EXPERIMENTS WERE MADE WITH ARMOR TO PROTECT THE BODY, BUT, SINCE IN TRENCH FIGHTING THE HEAD WAS THE PART MOST OFTEN EXPOSED AND FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT ESSENTIAL, BREAST-PLATES NEVER CAME INTO GENERAL USE. A NUMBER OF OLD-TIME WEAPONS WERE BROUGHT INTO PLAY, AMONG THEM THE HAND GRENADE, FOR USE AT CLOSE QUARTERS.

HAND-TO-HAND FIGHTING IN THE NARROW TRENCHES REVERTED TO THE PRIMITIVE. THE BAYONET WAS USED AS A SPEAR OR A CLUB. PISTOLS AND KNIVES WERE EMPLOYED AND SOMETIMES EVEN HOBBNAILED SHOES AND BARE HANDS BECAME DEADLY WEAPONS.

ONE OF THE MOST UNIQUE METHODS OF COMMUNICATIONS ON THE WESTERN FRONT WAS THE USE OF TRAINED DOGS AND CARRIER PIGEONS TO BEAR MESSAGES FROM THE FRONT LINE TO THE REAR THROUGH AND OVER AREAS WHERE HUMAN COURIERS COULD NOT PASS. SOME OF THESE BRAVE DOGS WERE ALSO TRAINED TO LOCATE AND SUCCOR WOUNDED SOLDIERS IN "NO MAN'S LAND."

German Cannot Box In Gotham

Must Honor Contract To Fight Scott Commission Orders
WINDSOR MAY BE SCENE OF BATTLE

By DAVID L. WALSH
Special Editor International News Service
NEW YORK, July 10.—The German boxer, Tony Canzoneri, who once permitted himself to know prize fighters, had a very definite mind of his own and the will to impose it upon others. At least in the matter of money, Canzoneri always seemed to know what he wanted and how to get it. Tony Canzoneri is a man who insists upon doing his banking personally. And the three of them are about as stubborn as a thoroughly undisciplined army bird in comparison with Max Schmeling, who today stands suspended in four states and two foreign territories because his personal antipathy for a disreputable manager is stronger than his judgment.

Schmeling comes nothing for the virtues of a boxing commission but not only can keep him out of employment here but also in Massachusetts, Illinois, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Kansas, the Dominion of Canada and possibly the whole of Europe. He cares nothing for the desires of the owners of a night club, either, and he is not a man to be easily frightened. He is at least as good as a lion by what he believes in.

Canzoneri will meet Jack Sharkey here—perhaps in Detroit, or in Jersey—when the new date is fixed. This is a situation, it is almost certain to become a fact. But it will be a matter of some concern to the promoters of the fight, who will have to have the meeting take place in a place where the fight can be held.

Canzoneri has to do with the fact that he is a German. He is a man who is not a man to be easily frightened. He is at least as good as a lion by what he believes in.

Sonnenberg Wins From "Strangler"

Lewis Takes First Fall But Ex-Collegian Wins Last Two Falls

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Mass., July 10.—Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, was today looking for new fields to conquer.

For the former Dartmouth football star successfully defended his title here last night when he defeated Ed "Strangler" Lewis of Chicago by taking two falls out of three.

Sonnenberg was thrown for the first time in his career when Lewis side-stepped one of his tackles, secured a break lock and pinned him to the mat 17 minutes and 41 seconds after the bout started.

From this point on, Lewis was on the defensive. The champion took the second fall in 18 minutes and 30 seconds by the use of his famous flying tackle after having trapped Lewis into believing he was groggy after several head locks.

The third fall came quickly. After having been pushed from the ring, Sonnenberg climbed through the ropes, taking advantage of the referee's back, and pinned Lewis in 18 minutes and 30 seconds.

Pirates Tackle Phillies Today

May Have Difficulty Overcoming Klen, O'Doul Or Hurst

CHI-CUBS TO PLAY GIANTS IN NEW YORK

By HENRY McLEWORE
International News Service Staff Writer
NEW YORK, N. Y., July 10.—The Pirates, porters of the National League's upper crust—meaning Pittsburgh's Casey and New York's Smith and a few days of home meetings.

For the leading home aggregation in Philadelphia, the Pirates may find more than a little trouble in facing Klen, O'Doul, Hurst and the remainder of the Phillies.

While all this is going on in the Quaker City these two old bog friends the Cubs and the Giants will be mixing it here. The Giants picked up a game on the Cubs yesterday by knocking out the third string, while the Cubs were down to the Braves and are now only two and one-half games behind. So to know anything is necessary to see what the present two-game series means to both clubs.

Sammy Ben Bornheimer slammed out two homers to give the Cubs a winning run over the Phillies. Loss: His Pate.

These are slowly picking up in the American series. Yesterday Papa Faber bested Grandfather Quinn and the White Sox took the final hit from the Athletics. In St. Louis Babe Ruth slammed out his 18th Herb Pennock started off a ninth inning rally by the Browns and the Yankees took another to claim a full game and place them only seven and one-half games in the rear of the Mackmen. It seems as if there must be a race.

They're Li'l But—Oh, My! My!!

By QUIN JALLI
While the expansive ballyhoo seems to be pretty well bottled up and saved until such time as the world's heavyweight light championship is concerned, there are a lot of little fighters who deserve more than a slap on the back.

These little fellows are usually much more active in the business of book-busting than the heavyweights, but they fail to get the breaks when it comes to much publicity.

Ever since John L. Sullivan first pulled on a fighting mitten it seems that most of the interest has been centered around the big fellows. And in many cases, the really smart boxing is only to be found in the heavier divisions. Gene Tunney was a great boxer, but of the present crop of heavyweights, and there is a good supply—you could count the real boxers on the fingers of your right hand and have some digits left over. They are mostly marauders, while the big fellows are to be found among the little fellows—and plenty of the latter also have dynamite in their pants.

Glancing over these pint-sized busters, it is interesting to note that, finally, a real Indian may be listed among the fistie champions. While the red men have made good in other branches of sport, there has been a scarcity of them in the fight game. Now Pete Nebo, a lightweight Seminole, seems to be heading in the general direction of a title. Nebo may be in action but Elkhart, like Herrera, stopped before he reached the peak.

What's the Reason?

BROOKLYN, July 10.—The Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday three to one, making a clean sweep of the three game series at Ebbets field. The Pirates came through with a rally just when they appeared to be through. When the eighth inning started, the Pirates had a shutout. Kremer hit for the Pirates.

First Christians Defeat Brethren

Sheets Hit Hard, But Fans Many Of Opposing Batters In Pinches

First Christians noded out the Central Christians by a score of 9 to 6 in a church league game on the Scotland Lane grounds last evening, despite the fact that they were out.

One big first inning was enough to settle the battle, the winners scoring seven runs before the side had been retired. Only two runs were scored during the remainder of the contest, Davis settling down and hurling fine ball. The damage had already been done, however, and the Central boys could not overcome the handicap those seven runs represented.

Sheets, while hit hard, fanned ten of the opposing batters, tightening up in the pinches. Hulbert and A. Bauman of the Central Christians had three hits apiece.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Fish in the vicinity of Cambridge Springs once again can romp as they choose, as Attorney S. L. Clark and Cricket Wyner have returned from their cottage at Miller Station. They report that French creek is high and only two fish were taken.

It looks as though Elkhart, like Erie, may cause a sort of future when he steps through the ropes next Monday night. The Indian, who made a big impression on the coast, is now sojourning in Chicago, and is expected to give Firpo his hardest fight.

Elliott Pace, Chicago, last night won the national clay tennis singles championship at Indianapolis by defeating Gilbert Hill of South Orange, N. J., in five sets, 6-4, 5-3, 4-6, 2-6, 6-2. Hill was the favorite, having defeated Fritz Meurer of Bethlehem, Pa.

Rule Marquard, who was purchased by the New York Giants in 1908, and who had a colorful big league career, has been named manager of the Jacksonville team of the South-Eastern League. When sold to the Giants the price was $11,000, at that time a record.

Bernie McFarland, former Pittsburgh city champion after a mediocre first round, turned in 63 in the afternoon session yesterday at the Pittsburgh public links in qualifying for the national tourney. His card of 137 deadlocked him with R. G. Barr for medalist honors.

Chick Evans, Chicago, eight times titleholder, faces possible elimination at Kansas City in the western golf tournament qualifying play when he bears some proportion to the power of the car.—The St. Louis Times.

Farmer's Pet Snake Stops Traffic When It Takes Sun Bath

CHARLOTTE, Pa., July 10.—Black snakes have the right of way over traffic—when the snake is a farmer's pet.

Thus seven motorists decided near here yesterday on the Pittsburgh pike when a five-foot snake, said to belong to a farmer near the road, chose the middle of the highway for a sun bath.

No Let Up In Steel Industry

Fresh Orders Insure Unusually Busy Summer Run In Plants

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 10.—Fresh accumulations of steel orders and specifications since the opening of the third quarter give renewed assurance that the steel industry will operate through July and possibly August at close to a maximum capacity. Iron Age, in its weekly summary will say tomorrow:
Chicago sales were the heaviest of any week this year, and no midsummer letup is in sight, the magazine will say. Backlogs in some products are being reduced, making earlier deliveries possible.

"Coming on top of a record half year which exceeded the largest previous six months' output by almost 4,000,000 tons. The vitality of current demand is the more surprising," the magazine will say. "July output will probably not fall far short of the large June total of 4,881,370 tons, which was at a rate of only fractionally below 100 per cent capacity."

"Most buyers now are apparently fairly certain that their summer needs will not be below those of the second quarter. The slowing of demand for steel in the automobile industry will probably be less than summer usually brings. Railroad inquiry for steel is noteworthy. Several large gas line projects are taking shape. Structural steel activity is such that a leading producer expects the third quarter to rival the second in volume. Southern pig iron presents the only marked sign of weakness in the whole iron and steel situation."
"Steel prices are fairly steady, though minor weaknesses have occurred in some districts on wire nails and black and galvanized sheets. Iron Age composite price for pig iron declined to $18.54 from 18.63 last week. This was the second drop in five weeks from the year's high of $18.71."

Youngstown School Program Curtailed

Lack Of Funds Causes Delay In Opening Technical School

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 10.—Scheduled opening of the technical high school in the remodeled former Rayen school building in September will have to be postponed at least a semester because of a lack of finances in the opinion of Supt. J. J. Richeson and several board members.

Although about $17,000 is being spent in remodeling the building—work on which is nearly complete—school officials say that $40,000 more will be needed to equip the school "and such an amount is not in sight."
"We can't count on the school for nothing," Richeson said today "and to open the school we must have equipment."

"I agree fully with Richeson," Robert McGhie said "I can see no way that the school can be opened in September. We just haven't got the money."

McGhie pointed out that $140,000 would have to be added to next year's budget for printing and repairing of old buildings.
